

Deutsche Arbeitsfront (German Labor Front)

The Deutsche Arbeitsfront or DAF was the labor organization under the NSDAP in the Third Reich. It replaced the various independent trade unions in Germany. Its leader was Robert Ley, who stated that its aim was 'to create a true social and productive community'. Like all other Nazi organizations it was dissolved in May of 1945. We always have original DAF literature and memorabilia for sale on this website.